

IUCN Intellectual Property Rights Notice

IUCN, the International Union for Conservation of Nature has no editorial control over any content supplied by any of the participants to the 2012 IUCN World Conservation Congress held in Jeju (“Congress”) other than IUCN personnel (the “Participant(s)”).

Any opinions, advice, statements, services, offers, or other information or content of any kind (collectively “Information”) expressed, provided or made available by any of the Participants to the Congress are only the Participants’ themselves, and not IUCN’s, and IUCN neither guarantees nor endorses the accuracy or reliability of any such Information. The Participant shall ensure that all materials including, without limitation, images, icons, photographs, graphics, sounds, music, videos, texts, software, feedback, data, messages, answers, questions, comments, suggestions, scores, hints, ideas, plans, orders, requests or the like or any other material (“Material”) referred to or included in their presentations or otherwise used in the Congress are protected under copyright and/or other intellectual property right laws, and the Participant warrants that he has all rights to his use of the Material and that such use is in accordance with applicable laws.

Any copyrights with respect to presentations made or Material otherwise used by the Participant during the Congress belong to Participant unless otherwise agreed in writing between IUCN, and Participant. The Participant shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless IUCN, its affiliates, officers, directors, employees and agents from and against any and all third party claims and liabilities, assessments, losses, costs and damages resulting from or arising out of Participant’s

(a) Failure to comply with this Policy; or

(b) Infringement or violation of any intellectual property, privacy or other rights of a third party.